ABOUT THE ROLE

At Redrow we provide opportunities; and for undergraduates who can show they make the most of opportunities – we're a perfect match. Our industrial placement programme offers first-class training to learn and develop transferable skills in a range of exciting roles across the business. As we continue to grow, we want our people to grow too – and we recognise how important real-world experience can be in helping you achieve your dream job in the future.

Over the 12 month industrial placement we'll make sure you get exposure to our business and the opportunity to work on live projects where your work has a very real and meaningful impact. Being trusted with real responsibility, along with support and training from industry experts will give you the opportunity to see what you're capable of.

CONSTRUCTION

During your time within the construction department you will gain valuable experience working on a Redrow development site gaining exposure to the life-cycle of the build of our homes. This fast-paced, hands-on experience will enable you to work with a number of highly skilled professionals and get a first-hand insight into how our award winning homes are built.
