

TECHNICAL GRADUATE TRAINEE

ABOUT THE ROLE

Redrow are one of the UK's largest and most successful five star housebuilders. Our purpose is simple; we build beautiful homes in places people want to live. We don't just pride ourselves on building quality homes – we build quality careers too!

People are at the heart of what we do and we have a long history of supporting people to establish and grow their career within Redrow. We are proud that over 15% of our entire workforce is a trainee – and you could be one of them!

Our Technical Graduate Programme offers a first-hand insight into how our award winning homes are built and designed. As we continue to grow, we want you to grow with us as we discover new ways of designing quality homes that push the boundaries of innovation and exceed expectations.

As part of the two year programme you will join the Technical Department of one of our regions, working and learning from experienced technical professionals such as our designers and engineers. You will also be mentored by Senior Directors within our business and have the opportunity to undertake formal training to support your ongoing professional development.

If you've got the enthusiasm, drive and determination to join Redrow and become the future of our business, apply now.

Responsible to: Technical Director

WHAT/WHO ARE WE LOOKING FOR?

We focus on getting the right people for the role, therefore we accept applicants who:

- Have a 2:1 degree or higher
- Have initiative, plenty of drive and are a strong team player
- Are committed to diversity and inclusion
- Can demonstrate a passion for the industry
- Have strong commercial acumen to achieve business results

You will need to be able to travel to local site locations. Due to this, you should have a full UK driving license with access to a vehicle. You will also need to prove your eligibility to work within the UK.

You will also need to live within a 45 minute commutable distance to the divisional office where you will be based.
